HOW TO SIZE YOUR TOOL BELT

The best, and most accurate, way to size your tool belt is to MEASURE the belt you currently wear.

If you don't have a current belt, borrow one from a friend or coworker (or in extreme situations use a cloth tape measure or piece of rope).

1. Put the belt on where you would normally wear it and over your regular work clothes.

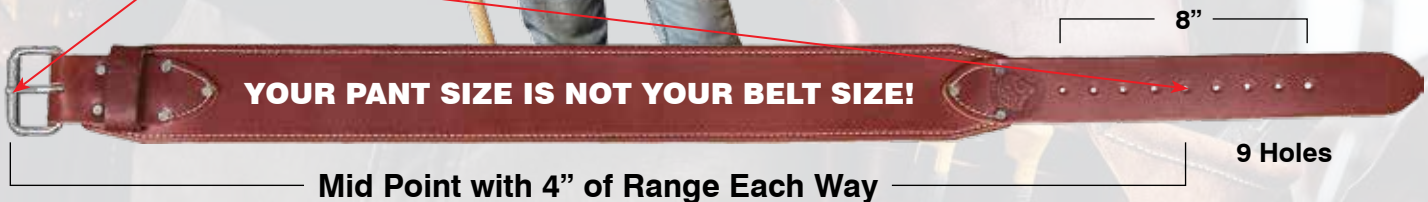

2. Note which hole you use to fasten the belt.

3. Measure from the buckle to the hole you used. That is your Belt Size.
See sizing chart below.

Why can't I just use my pant size?

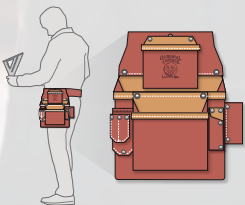

- Modern pants are made with materials that stretch to fit you (our belts will form to you over time, but are not "stretchy").
- Clothing manufacturers often use vanity sizing. A pair of 36" skinny jeans fit a very different person than a pair of 36" relaxed fit jeans.
- As a general rule, belt sizes can be 3" - 7" greater than your waist size. This depends on how you wear your belt (high on the waist or low on the hips).
- Remember, you wear your rig over your pants, regular belt, shirt, hoodie, etc.

Size your belt for your work habits.

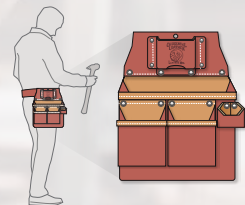

Size	Mid Point	Size	Mid Point
Small	34"	X-Large	45"
Medium	37"	XX-Large	49"
Large	41"	XXX-Large*	53"
*XXX-Large only available in 5035 belt style
